
Belt and Road Scholarship Program

I. Introduction to the program

In response to the Belt and Road strategy announced by the Chinese government, Beijing Sport University has launched the Belt and Road Scholarship program. This program is designed to promote cooperation, inclusiveness, and mutual understanding and benefits between China and other B&R countries. International students who are interested in Chinese culture and sports, and in particular, those who are earnest in developing a better future between these countries, are welcomed to apply for this scholarship.

Scholarship recipients will receive their admission package at the beginning of August 2017 and must register at Beijing Sport University before September 2017.
